- Big Low are a semi-acoustic band and some of the instruments they use require careful treatment. The band uses two own mini – mixing boards on stage for bandoneon & guitar/saw/velofoon – these require line outs and we make sure the sound being sent out is ok. The band uses a combination of loud and soft sound which makes mixing them quite difficult. Enough time needs to be allocated for a thorough soundcheck. A good range of quality microphones/gear and an experienced sound engineer are essential.
