

micromusic

Micromusic is an internet community that builds on musicians and lovers of old computer-games. The results are lowtech music with a "do-it-yourself" attitude: gameboys, commodores and free music-software are more important than expensive equipment and loads of technical knowledge. Every 2 months new free songs, composed by artists all around the world, become available trough the website www.micromusic.net.

The website was founded in 1998 in Switzerland. In less than 2 years time micromusic.net became a multimedia website unique to the internet. The very active micro-community now counts over 12.000 members. The quality of uploaded music defines a new standard in low-tech music.

Next to the online part of the web community there is an ever-growing number of micromusic-events. In these events artists of the community get together to do live-shows, exchange ideas and plan new parties. Just as there is no limit to the internet, the parties take place in cities all over the world. On a regular basis Micromusic-HQ-Enschede in co-operation with Alles Los Events organizes parties in Holland where the best of the micromusic-artists from all over the world come to play.
